2 AUGUST 2013, SYDNEY

Morning Seminar

This seminar overviews the EPA's proposed Risk Based Environment Regulatory Framework. This new approach will review all Environment Protection Licences using a Risk Assessment process. Outcomes of the process will affect future licence conditions such as monitoring, inspection rates and fees. Key issues to be discussed include:

- ✓ Overview of the proposed Risk Framework and expected implementation time
- ✓ Implications for administrative fees and Load Based Licensing
- ✓ Risk rankings and how they will be applied
- ✓ Use of PIRMPs in the risk assessment process
- ✓ Timeframes for implementation and further consultation
- ✓ Environmental penalties and the link to higher administration fees
- ✓ Industry reviews of the Framework and its application
- ✓ Outcomes of test drives of the Risk Assessment tool
- ✓ Application of the tool on licence conditions
- ✓ Benefits from improved operational performance
- ✓ How much will an EMS help under the Framework?
