

ENVIRONMENTAL COMPLIANCE: LICENSING & POLLUTION LAW

Organised by:

Sponsored by:

CLYDE & CO

3 DECEMBER 2019 SYDNEY

This seminar will review the many environmental legal obligations on holders of Environment Protection Licences (EPL) with the EPA and others, such as the Risk Based Licensing system, website monitoring data publishing and Pollution Incident Response Management Plans (PIRMP), expected compliance and future regulatory changes. Tightening of EPLs is occurring in a gradual manner led by air pollution limits. Recent changes by SafeworkAustralia to TWA is occurring and this has the potential to spill into air pollution control withing both safety and environmental controls and conditions.

To help sites better manage their EPL ASBG offers this seminar and workshop covering the following:

- ✓ The regulator's advice on compliance and managing your EPL
- ✓ Overview of Environmental Protection Licences — a legal overview
- ✓ Negotiating environmental licence conditions and new requirements
- ✓ A license holders' tips and issues in managing your site's EPL and environmental conditions
- ✓ Dealing with Pollution Reduction Programs and application of newer environmental criteria
- ✓ Working with the regulators to achieve a better level of compliance
- ✓ What are the thresholds for EPLs and what to do if you are likely to exceed your EPL threshold
- ✓ License conditions, what are they and which ones are most important
- ✓ Monitoring under your license → how to get the most from monitoring
- ✓ Preventing and managing complaints from neighbours
- ✓ Immediate reporting of pollution incidents and PIRMP use
- ✓ How to negotiate changes to your EPL and planning conditions
