

Pollution Incident Response Management Plans Writing & Testing Webinar

Brought to you by

To get you up to speed

WEBINAR

3 x 1 hour Sessions

Create well written PIRMPs to comply and protect your business

Having a well written Pollution Incident Response Management Plans (PIRMP) will protect your site when an incident occurs. Not only to better control the incident but to also protect the organisation from being a victim of its own document. Holding an Environment Protection Licences means that not only should a PIRMP be prepared and ready for implementation, but it must also be updated, tested and training occur. Additionally, EPA has released its upgraded PIRMP Guidelines and has indicated it will amend PIRMP law under the POEO (General) Regulation.

ASBG's webinar will over 3 session cover the basics of what is required in a PIRMP, but also how to meet the new guidelines and write the document so your site has more control over what incidents are considered to trigger Material Harm and how they are responded to. The webinar will cover:

The workshop will cover:

- ✓ An overview of the contents and key areas required to be covered in a PIRMP document
- ✓ What is a pollution incident?
- ✓ Enforcement of PIRMPs – how does the EPA go about this?
- ✓ When do non-trivial Material Harm incidents trigger?
- ✓ Fires and fire water as Material Harm
- ✓ Emergency pollution incident response issues
- ✓ Example pollution cleanup response procedures
- ✓ Dealing with neighbours after an incident
- ✓ Developing testing programs & scenarios
- ✓ Designing training programs
- ✓ Ensuring compliance on these issues
